The salary lump sum is intended to partly or fully cover the actual salary for the applicant. The actual salary for grant holders is determined by the employer. If the allocated grant is larger than the actual salary cost (including supplement charges), the grant holder may use the remaining funding for running costs within the research project described in the application. If the allocated grant is not sufficient to cover the actual salary cost, the difference needs to be covered from another funding body.

Allocated grants for 4-year childhood cancer research positions and returning PD to Sweden are combined with running costs of 500 000 SEK per year
